AMERICAN HEROES

EVERY purchaser of a War Bond gives up something to aid his fellowmen with the same spirit that Pfc. William P. Bowes of West Roxbury, Mass., showed in risking his life to save a comrade on a Pacific Island, though in a lesser degree. Though previous attempts to reach three wounded men had failed, Pfc. Bowes crawled through the jungle in the face of intense enemy fire and dragged one of the men 35 yards to cover. The action won him a Silver Star. U. S. Treasury Department

Gingham Worn At Lodge Meet

Gingham Night which took on the aspect of "School Days" before the evening was over, proved to be one of the outstanding meetings for Trio Rebekah lodge Wednesday evening.

All members wore their gingham dresses, bobby socks and hair ribbons.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of $60 to the president of the Trio Helpers Club, Julia Keyes, to be applied to the hospital fund. Vera Lockett headed the procession of members who had helped to earn the funds. The group included Marie Eaton, Josephine Schwartz, Helen Kupps, Elizabeth Hunt, Elsie Crenshaw, Nellie Farquhar and Fronia Branagh.

The outstanding clever ability of Mrs. Josephine Schwartz was responsible for the decorations in the dining room where refreshments were served.

A colored mammy doll presiding over a wash tub was used as the centerpiece and over the tables were tiny gingham aprons in all bright colors which Mrs. Schwartz had made. strung on a clothes line. Each guest was presented with one of the aprons.

Visitors from the Compton Rebekah lodge were special guests.

Writers Report Article Sales

The Lomita Writers' Guild held its most recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Franklin Kindig, 2432 W. 254th st. The hostess read three of her poems, "Spring in North Carolina," "Candlelight and Flowers," and "Handclasp of a Friend" and an article, "Chivalry" a burlesque on improving a small farm and the backaches to be had in the process.

Mrs. Lee Elvard announced the sale of another one of her articles to "Trailer Topics." She also read an article "Are You a Success?" and a short story, "Happy Birthday, Martha," which dealt with a small refugee girl's longing for ice cream. Mavis Seckler read two of her philosophical sketches, "Something to Think About" and "On Thinking."

Andy Anderson reported two acceptances, a poem to "Progressive Grocer" and a short verse to "L. A. Daily News." He read two of his recently written humorous verses, "Pictorially Perturbed" and "Tattle Tale Black." Mrs. Inez Brumelow read her short story, "The Order of Cosmo," and Harold Monroe read his story, "No Ham," which had been published in the "Chicago Daily News" and partially reprinted in the "Writer's Digest." Mrs. R. Great-house was a guest. The next meeting of the Guild will be held at the same place Friday, April 20 at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in writing is invited to attend.
